All eBooks are available for purchase with multi-user access or through customizable subscription packages.

BRAIN HIVE READ-ALONGS

Look for the “audio” symbol throughout the Decodables catalog for collections that include FREE audio. Brain Hive’s platform allows for students to listen while following along with word for word highlighting for a read-along experience.

Read-alongs allow students to hear explicit sounds of letters and letter patterns that form words. Read-alongs also help students engage in text and gain exposure to more words, ultimately improving vocabulary, comprehension and critical thinking skills.

Explore books that use decodable text—phonics, repetition, and sight words to help students achieve foundational reading skills!

Is your school or district following the Science of Reading?

Find the support you need with Little Blossom's Decodable Sets.

The Little Blossom Stories series uses:

- + Curriculum-based fiction
- + Decodable text—a combination of sight words, letter patterns, and vowel sounds
- + Original illustrations to help guide readers through the text
- + A, B, and C reading levels

Level A books limit words to single syllable short vowel words with no blends and digraphs. Words not fitting this description are placed in sight words, and are generally limited to ones that are listed on the 100 most common words for beginning readers.

Level B books introduce multi-syllable words and feature blends and digraphs. The focus is for easy decoding using phonics sounds.

Level C bold books build off of lessons from earlier levels and feature more complex sentences. Syntax, meaning, and visual cues are used to help decode ambiguous vowel sounds.

Red Rocket Alphabet Explorers

Build foundational skills with phonics practice.

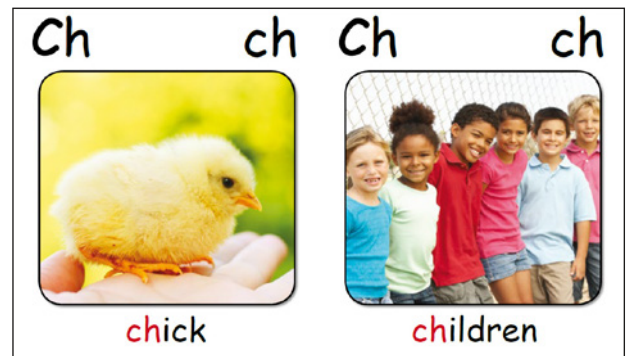

Children need several different means of identifying letters.

As well as learning to read and write all letter forms, it's essential they discover letter names and sounds.

The Red Rocket Alphabet Explorers Classroom Library features thirty 8-page books; individual titles for each letter of the alphabet, plus one each focusing on the key digraphs Ch, Ph, Sh and Th.

Red Rocket Alphabet Explorers will help children to become familiar with all the letters of the alphabet in the following ways:

- by alphabet names
- as upper and lower case symbols
- by word and picture associations
- by sound associations
- by sharing rhymes (inside back cover)
- through practice of letter formation

Red Rocket Blend Explorers

Build foundational skills with phonics practice.

Following on from Alphabet Explorers, the next essential literacy skill is the blending of consonants – to make onset blends. Red Rocket Blend Explorers introduce 22 common consonant combinations where each individual letter-sound is heard – helping children to become familiar with these initial blends in several ways:

- by sound associations
- as upper and lower case symbols
- through practice of letter formation
- by letter names
- by word and picture associations

Red Rocket Sound Explorers

Build foundational skills with phonics practice.

Some letters commonly make more than one sound. Exploring hard, soft, long, and short letter-sounds and having that knowledge secure is an important skill for emergent students to master. Red Rocket Sound Explorers introduce the alternative sounds letters can make, along with the unique single-sound some consonant combinations create, and help children to become familiar with these sounds in several ways:

- by sound associations
- as upper and lower case symbols
- by sharing rhymes (inside back cover)
- by letter names
- by word and picture associations
- through practice of letter formations

Decodable Explorers

Build foundational skills with Red Rocket decodable texts.

Red Rocket Decodable Explorers offer a structured literacy approach at the emergent level. Readers will grow in confidence as they progress from the first book to the last, acquiring new skills and putting them to work in an authentic way.

Like all Red Rocket Readers, the new Decodable Explorers feature colorful, entertaining illustrations that support the text, launch oral discussion and develop student comprehension. The classic story structure (tension, climax and resolution) ensures children will want to engage with the texts.

Decodable Books

Make Learning to Read Fun with Decodable Books

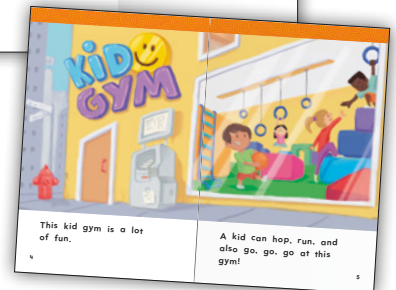

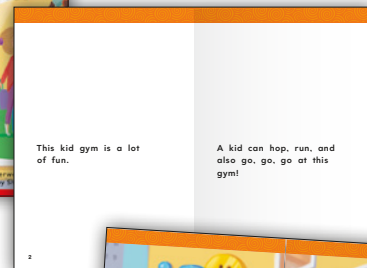

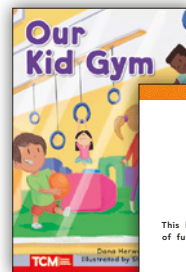

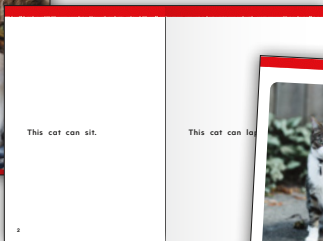

These fun and engaging books are truly decodable with non-predictable stories. They are structured to progressively develop phonological awareness, phonics skills, and high-frequency word recognition. These books contain regular spelling patterns, with most letters representing their usual sounds, providing successful reading practice for early readers that align to the most popular reading programs and training. Each book includes engaging family support and phonics focus pages.

This series includes 10 unique text-first books for each level. These books provide the opportunity for students to practice decoding the text without illustration clues. When they turn the page, the same text is repeated with illustrations to confirm their decoding accuracy and understanding.

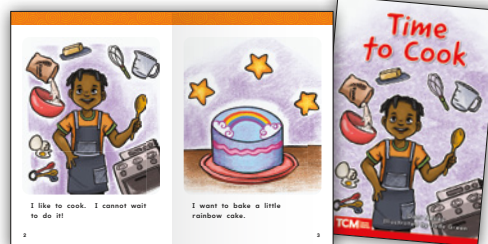

90 books available for grades Pre-K-2

- Sequenced books introduce new sounds and words for a systematic progression of skills.
- Regular practice of high-frequency words in connected text.
- Most words are decodable or high frequency words.

Family Engagement

Extend the fun and learning with your young reader!

Phonics Fun

Have your child read the sentence on page 1. Ask them what word has been in the middle of the words and find Sam. Circle your child's word and then use the word in the different letters they make in the word animal. Have them think of more words.

Expansive Reading

Read about the body parts of the book, identifying proper grammar and use punctuation. Then, write a story about the body parts of the book. Have them write and draw the body parts of the book. Have them write a poem or a paragraph about the body parts of the book.

Connection to the Arts

After reading page 12, have your child think about what the children in the book will do when they get home. Then, have them draw a picture of what they think the children will do. Encourage them to include details.

19

Dandelion Launchers

Supporting a systematic phonics approach

Aimed at children aged 4-7, each book introduces only a few letter/sounds at a time allowing independent reading from the outset.

Each unit introduces new letters/sounds while revisiting previously taught phonic letters/sounds and high-frequency or sight words.

Parent and Caregiver Guide

Reading aloud with your child has many benefits. It expands vocabulary, sparks discussion, and promotes an emotional bond. Research shows that children who have books read aloud to them have improved language skills, leading to greater school success.

I Read! You Read! books offer a fun and easy way to read with your child. Follow these guidelines.

Before Reading

- Look at the front and back covers. Discuss personal experiences that relate to the topic.
- Read the Words to Know on page 3. Talk about what the words mean.
- If the book will be challenging or unfamiliar to your child, read it aloud by yourself the first time. Then, invite your child to participate in a second reading.

During Reading

Have your child read the words beside this symbol. This text has been carefully matched to the reading and grade levels shown on the cover.

You read the words beside this symbol.

- Stop often to discuss what you are reading and to make sure your child understands.
- If your child struggles with decoding a word, help them sound it out. If it is still a challenge, say the word for your child and have them repeat it after you.
- To find the meaning of a word, look for clues in the surrounding words and pictures.

After Reading

- Praise your child's efforts. Notice how they have grown as a reader.
- Ask and answer questions about the book.
- Discuss what your child learned and what they liked or didn't like about the book.

Most importantly, let your child know that reading is fun and worthwhile. Keep reading together as your child's skills and confidence grow.

Adult amphibians find mates. Some males call to females. The females look for the loudest male.

Since mating takes place at night, the female sings a duet with the male to help find him in the dark.

A bee can fly away!

Bees fly as fast as 20 miles (32 kilometers) per hour!

Supports parent involvement and perfect for Title 1 programs!
